

Story Punctuation — Commas and Endings

Grade 3

Name: _____

Read the passage. Add all missing commas and ending punctuation marks (. ? !).

Every sentence needs an ending mark — period (.), question mark (?), or exclamation mark (!). Also look for missing commas in: lists, Yes/No/Sure/Well openers, dates, and place names.

Example: Well I packed my hat scarf and boots. → Well, I packed my hat, scarf, and boots.

A Museum Adventure

Last Tuesday our class went on a field trip to the Natural History Museum in Boston Massachusetts Well it was a long bus ride but totally worth it We saw huge dinosaur bones ancient artifacts and sparkling gems Our guide Mr Harrison told us many interesting facts about the past Did they really sail so far across the ocean to find new lands We learned about brave explorers clever inventions and important discoveries The best part was seeing a real astronaut suit and a piece of the moon What an amazing journey humans have made into space and time We even got to touch a meteorite on May 15 2024 a truly unforgettable experience Everyone learned something new and exciting that day
